

SHORTER POLITICAL DICTIONARY

Administration See Rico Statute

Bush A naer-do-well who gains the support of criminals

Capitalism See Imperialism

Congress Iniquity with pockets

Conservative See Liberal

Constitution A joke book

Democrat A confused person. See also Coward

Democrat2 A Republican

Election See Fixed by Party of Lincoln

Farce See Government

GOP Anagram for "Greed Our Passion"

Imperialism See Suicide or Iraq

Judge One who postures while following orders

Legislator One who by rubber-stamping The Executive gets rich in public service

Liberal One who believes in personal freedom. Therefore unaffiliated with either Republican or Democrat.

Minimum Wage Less than a pittance and yet potentially destructive of an entire nation

Patriot See Nazi

People See Screwed

Policy See Lying

President Beelzebub in a suit. An effective role, since most subjects are scared.

Press An onomatopoetic word: sound of a rectum sucking air;
also, easily bought or frightened

Religious Those who masturbate while attempting to prevent others from doing so. See Republican

Republican Thief who professes values

Republican2 Entity which peeks into your bedroom for principle and pleasure

Republican3 See Racist, and also Party of Lincoln

Senator A pirate who has taken a speech course. See Empty Suit.

Screwed See People

Soldier A pawn, living or dead

Television An entertainment for morons; in the political sphere, stage for dancing farce

To Cheney Expressing an inability to be truthful

To Rove See To Goebbels

Wealthy denoting a class which invests in the market and in Congress.

War A game professed by the Executive Department, which washes its hands of consequence

